A wreck at sea is not the only place where a life line is of importance.

There is a life line for the sick, as well as for the drowning man. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is not a cure-all, but it is a scientific medicine that goes to the fountain head of a number of serious and fatal diseases. When a man gets seriously sick, he can generally be cured by the right course of treatment. The treatment that cures many obstinate chronic diseases consists of pure air, good food, rational exercise, and the use of a remedy that will strengthen the weak stomach, correct the impaired digestion, invigorate the liver and promote the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food. The "Golden Medical Discovery" accomplishes all these things.

"A young man lay pale and motionless upon (what neighbors called) his dying bed. Discase of the lungs, liver complaint, kidney trouble, and neuritis were fast hastening him to the grave. The doctors had given him up to die. The neighbors said, 'he cannot live.' Oh, I would not care to die," he said, "were it not for leaving my dear wife and little child, but I know that I must die." A brother had presented him with three bottles of medicine, but he had no faith in "patent medicines"; but after the doctors had given him up to die and he had banished every hope of recovery, he said to his wife, "dear wife, I am going to die, there can be no harm now in taking that medicine. I will begin its use at once." He did begin to use it and at first he grew worse, but soon there came a change. Slowly but surely he got better. To-day that man is strong and healthy and he owes his life to that medicine. What was the medicine? It was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I, Luther Martin, am the cured man. Dr. Pierce, I thank you from the very depth of my heart for rescuing me from the grave." The foregoing is from Luther Martin, Esq., a prominent citizen of Lubec, Wood Co., W. Va.

Factories Without Chimneys.

The statement that a chimney, the third or fourth tallest in the world, has just been completed at a cost of $55,000, and the announcement that the most gratifying success has attended the use of forced draft, without any chimneys whatever out of the ordinary, appear in contemporary journals. The experiment of forced draft gives promise of great economy in fuel, as well as doing away with the expensive and unornamental chimney. The draft arrangement consists of a large fan, which is connected with a 4 by 4 double cylinder engine. The fan has a wheel 54 inches in diameter and runs at almost any rate of speed desired. The draft is something prodigious and makes it possible to employ fuel of a lower grade than any heretofore used. Instead of the best Cumberland coal, a mixture of Cumberland and screenings has been tried. The cost of operating the fan, even with imperfect apparatus, is something like $800 per annum. The smokestack is scarcely taller than the roof of the building and of less capacity than that heretofore used for such purposes.—New York Ledger.

Twain's Material For Stories.

In Berlin, when one pays his fare to the conductor of a street car, he receives a ticket, which is soon afterward collected by an inspector, who boards the car at a fixed point. One day, just as a joke, Mark Twain paid his fare 15 times on one trip, each time throwing the ticket out of the window or under his seat as soon as he had deposited the regular fare with the conductor. A few minutes later the inspector would get on the car and demand tickets all around. Of course Twain had none to show and had to buy another, apparently with reluctance. The performance amused the American, dumfounded the conductor, who had never met so reckless a passenger, and tickled the native passengers, who thought the foreigner well punished for his negligence. By this modest investment material was obtained for a capital story, which netted Mark Twain just $500.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Homesick.

A recent article on homesickness recalls the reply made by a young Swedish maid to her mistress. It expresses clearly, though in imperfect English, what every sufferer from homesickness feels.

"You ought to be contented and not fret for your old home, Ina," said the lady as she looked at the dim eyes of the girl. "You are earning good wages, your work is light, every one is kind to you and you have plenty of friends here."

"Yas'm," said the girl, "but it is not the place where I do be that makes me vera homesick, it is the place where I don't be."—Youth's Companion.

The Real Reason.

Smithers—Why don't you run for school director, Brown?

Brown—Well, you see, sir, there is the farm to look after, and the work on the roads, the timber to cut, the strong party feeling, my views on the educational question, my tax theory, my ideas of the money problem, and then, besides—my wife wants to run.—Harper's Bazar.

A writer in London advertises to furnish manuscripts to persons who aspire to become authors, but can't write, at so much a volume.

The use of coal for house heating is not nearly so general in Europe as in this country.

Apparent Contradiction.

"It seems very strange to me," said the educated parrot, "that a thirst for learning can be satisfied with a lot of dry information."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Amsterdam is the nearest European capital to London, being only 199 miles distant.

"SOUND MONEY."

The New York Sun occasionally shines with its old time lustre, as witness the following:

"News comes from Emporia, Kansas, that the president of the First National bank of that city, has committed suicide, after wrecking the bank so badly that not only are its capital and surplus gone, but the depositors will get little or nothing of the $500,000 owing them. As a consequence of this failure, the neighboring Madison bank has been obliged to close its doors.

"Only a few weeks ago the Tradesmen's National bank of this city, which the Controller of the Currency supposed was perfectly sound, was examined by a committee of the Clearing House and found to be insolvent. Its depositors have not yet been paid a cent, and its stockholders will probably lose the greater part of the money they have invested in its stocks.

"When the Chestnut Street National bank of Philadelphia failed, a year ago, the discovery was made that it had been insolvent for over a year, and the Comptroller of the Currency knew it. Still, the bank was permitted to continue doing business and to receive deposits, because, as the Comptroller declared, closing its doors might have caused runs on other Philadelphia banks and led to a panic.

"These are but specimens of occurrences which happen every few days. The failures of national banks are so frequent that they excite no comment, and interest nobody but the sufferers by them. As a protection to bank creditors the Government management of banks is a delusion, and so would be its protection of bank note holders, if the note were not secured by bonds. "Yet, the bankers and the so-called currency reformers want the government to 'go out of the banking business,' by turning over the function of issuing circulating notes exclusively to the banks, and let the people look to the banks only for their redemption. Let it rather go out of the banking business by abolishing the whole national bank system, leaving all banking to be supervised by the individual States, and reserving to itself the sovereign function of issuing circulating notes, which the banks never should have been permitted to usurp."

AMENDE HONORABLE.

To an article recently appearing in the Appeal the Reno JOURNAL, for want of a better rejoinder, alludes to the writer as "Sammy."

This would seem to contradict the report that Major Dennis is editing the JOURNAL. With his fine gift of repartee the Major would hardly resort to so boyish a retort as that.—Appeal.

Be your pardon Honourable Mister Samuel Paddenhead Davis, Esquire. The writer didn't know at the time that your head was so badly swollen with the new and only honor that was ever conferred upon you that you would resent such innocent familiarity. The Scripture says, "when I was a child, I spake as a child," and the JOURNAL scribe, (who is a pious cue), imagined that he was obeying Scriptural injunction, when, in referring to the author of some babyish prattle, he adopted a childish nomenclature. Pardon him most august potentate that is to be. On his bended knees he craves it. It isn't satisfactory he will even kiss the hem of your garment, and permit you to do unto him, after such self-abasement, whatever the process may suggest to you.

PATRIOTIC AND SENSIBLE.

After being nominated for Congress by both the Silver Republicans and the Populists, Congressman Hartman withdrew in favor of the Democratic nominee. We do not know what prompted this action, but we do know that he had the good sense in view.—Bimetallism.

His action was doubtless based upon the sensible idea that the Democratic candidate was the most proper person to represent the silver cause at Washington. He was a member of the only national silver party of any importance in the country, and the other, recognizing that fact, and the fact that the fight in 1890 would unquestionably be made under the Democratic banner, patriotically gave way to the candidate representing that party.

SEVERAL REASONS.

The Republican and Democratic papers are falling nicely in line for Newlands. Is this for "services rendered" in the campaign?—Reticule.

No. It is because Mr. Newlands was endorsed by the people, while Mr. Stewart was repudiated, that a number of Democratic, Republican and Silver party papers are "falling nicely in line." It is also because he was loyal to Stewart's legislative tickets, when he knew that the latter was trading him off and doing his unlevel best to defeat him. It is because he has never violated a pledge which he made to the people of Nevada, either in or out of Congress, and lastly it is because a large majority of the people of the State despise Mr. Stewart while they respect Mr. Newlands.

Elko appears to be the scene of active operations of the Stewart Post Election Parity Committee, nearly the entire force being there at the present time. More anon.

THE RENO JOURNAL labored nobly in Stewart's behalf before election, a kindness which the "grand old fraud" now repays by repudiating a $500 printing bill due the paper. The latter terms the Senator a "parliamentary liar" because of certain recent statements, and under its new management is not likely to help Stewart's cause along. The Carson band also finds it necessary to sneer at Stewart for services rendered. In defense the latter denies the debt, but pleads that in any case it should have been claimed before. Nevada's old-man-of-the-sea seems to be after a record as a repudiator and dead beat in addition to other unavailing attributes now his by general consent.—Imjo Register.

A PERSON who insists that the Silver party legislators are bound by the State Convention resolution that endorsed Stewart, which indorsement the people repudiated, would insist that a man who was engaged to a woman while living, was in duty bound to marry her after she was dead.

Telegraphic Summary.
The remains of General Garota were yesterday placed temporarily in a vault at Arlington, from whence they will be taken to Cuba for permanent interment. The preliminary services were conducted in a manner befitting the standing of the great chief, and were attended by nearly all of the principal officials at Washington.

The trial of Mrs. Botkin went on yesterday at San Francisco. Hon. John R. Pennington, father of Mrs. Dunning, and Dr. Bishop, who attended the deceased lady, were examined by the prosecution. Nothing of a startling nature was adduced.

The Insular Cabinet at Porto Rico has decided to secure an efficient American superintendent for the Porto Rican schools.

The Nicaraguan Canal matter was discussed yesterday in the Senate, and that body passed the Supreme Court site bill.

In the House a resolution was adopted, calling upon the Secretary of War as to how many troops will be necessary to garrison the towns in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines.

Another resolution was adopted by the House calling upon the Secretary of State for information as to the alleged outrage upon Bishop Earl Cranston at Pekin.

Fire yesterday wiped out the principal block at Janesville, Iowa.

It is expected that Secretary Bliss will soon tender his resignation to the President.

The President and party left Washington yesterday for a week's trip through the South, the primary object being to attend the Peace Jubilee to be held in Atlanta.

PRECIOUS METALS.

Gold and Platinum Are Cheap Compared With Some of Them.

"The majority of people when asked to name the most precious metals usually mention gold as first, platinum as second and silver as third," said the proprietor of a large assaying and refining establishment to the writer recently. "Now, let us see how near the truth they would be. Gold is worth about $250 per pound Troy, platinum $180, and silver about $12.

"We will now compare these prices with those of the rarer and less well known metals. To take them in alphabetical order barium, the metal which Davy isolated from its ore, baryta, in 1808, sells for $950 a pound when it is sold at all, and calcium is worth $1,800 a pound. Cesium is a shade higher. Its cost is $160 an ounce, or $1,920 per pound. These begin to look like fabulous prices, but they do not reach the highest point, chromium being $200. Cobalt falls to about half the price of silver, while didymium, the metal isolated by Masander, is the same price as calcium. Then comes gallium, which is worth $3,250 an ounce. With this metal the highest price is reached, and it may well be called the rarest and most precious of metals.

"Gallium is worth $250 per ounce; indium, $150; iridium, $658 a pound; janthanium, $175, and lithium, $160 per ounce. Nidium costs $128 per ounce; osmium, palladium, platinum, potassium and rhodium bring respectively $340, $400, $180, $32 and $512 per pound. Strontium costs $128 an ounce; tantalum, $144; tellurium, $9; thorium, $272; vanadium, $320; yttrium, $144, and zincum, $250 an ounce.

"Thus we see that the commonly received opinion as to what are the most precious metals is quite erroneous. Barium is nearly four times as valuable as gold and gallium more than 160 times as costly, while many of the other metals mentioned are twice and three as valuable. Aluminum, which cost $8 and $9 a pound in 1890, is now produced as cheaply as iron, zinc, lead and copper."—Washington Star.

The extraordinary precocity of the children of India has called forth the astonishment of a recent traveler, who says that many of them are skilled workmen at an age when children are usually learning the alphabet.

CLARA A. POWNING,
Administratrix of the Estate of C. C. Powning, Deceased.
Dated at Reno, Nevada, this 6th Day of December, 1898.

RETROSPECT.

When you were here, I often sat
Love silent with you half the day;
There was small need of speech in that
Sweet converse of the blended way.

Now you are gone, and hear by hour
I muse of things I long to share;
There's not a bud, a leaf, a flower,
But helps me miss you everywhere.

My lonely heart enmeshes the past
With other caught from heaven's gold;
I dream of bliss too sweet to last,
And then I waken, starved and cold.

For by that solitary path
That onward leads from mortal ken
You walked, and here am I and faith
And jostling crowds of careless men.

I've touched the inmost core of pain
In creeping days, each day a year,
Yet might I sit tongue-tied again
If you were here, if you were here.

—Harper's Bazar.

CHESS CLOCKS.

There Are Specially Constructed Ones Used In the Game.

Hourglasses or sand glasses were formerly used for the purpose of measuring time at chess matches, but now specially constructed clocks are in general use for this purpose. These clocks consist of two clocks, mounted on a common base, which moves on a pivot, the two clocks therefore being on the arms of a sort of scissor. The beam or base is so constructed that when one clock is elevated it stands perfectly perpendicular, while the depressed clock lies over at an angle, but as the mechanism of each clock is so constructed that it only moves when the clock is perfectly perpendicular it follows that when the upright clock is going the depressed clock is at rest.

Another and more modern variety has the two clocks fixed on the same level, but with a small brass arm reaching from the top of one to the top of the other. This arm acts on a pivot and can be brought down into actual contact with one clock at a time by a touch of the finger. When it is thus in contact, by an ingenious device the clock is stopped and the desired result is attained. The working of the clock during a match is simplicity itself. At the commencement of the match the hands of each clock point to 12. Then at the call of "time to commence play," the clock of the first player is started; then, as soon as he makes his first move, he stops his own clock, either by depressing it or by touching the arm referred to, the same motion starting his opponent's clock. So it goes on during the entire course of the game, each move being marked by the stopping of one clock and the starting of the other.

Pianists Practice Too Much.

"While studying with Rubinstein, Josef Hofmann practiced three hours a day," writes Mary B. Mullott of the famous pianist in The Ladies' Home Journal. "He believes that most students make the mistake of overpracticing. When he came to this country the first time, he was practicing an hour a day. For two years after his return to Germany he practiced two hours a day. During the next two years he averaged four hours daily, and after that, until he went to Rubinstein, six hours daily. This he regards as excessive.

"One's mind grows stupid and confused," Hofmann says, "and one's fingers follow the confusion of the brain. Another mistake of young pianists is that they use too much force in practicing. One should play just hard enough to keep the fingers and wrists from getting stiff. One is not aiming for artistic results as one is in concert playing. It is the fingers which need constant practice."

It will be practically a New Year's ball, but the new year coming in on Sunday the Wheelmen will take time by the forelock and hold the festivities the evening before so they can be kept up until the wee sma' hours. The committee is sparing no pains to make it the social event of the holiday season.

Husband of a Former Virginian in Trouble.

Fred Ray, a well known druggist, was placed in the county jail last Friday night, according to the San Francisco Examiner, at the instance of his wife, pending an examination as to his sanity.

About three months ago Ray married Miss Laura Tilden, who, previous to her marriage, had been practicing law. She was bequeathed a small fortune by her father, the late Judge M. C. Tilden, formerly of Virginia City, and who died in San Francisco.

With the money provided by his wife, Ray established himself in the drug business. He failed to meet his bills and his store was attached. The other night he made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide by shooting himself in the head. To-day Mrs. Ray asked the City Attorney for a warrant for her husband's arrest. She told the City Attorney that last night he tried to kill her by offering her a deadly drug in place of cough medicine, which she refused to take.

For years Ray has acted rather queerly, and his eccentricities led his friends to believe that he was weak in mind.

Mrs. Ray was the first lady admitted to the bar in Nevada, and resided in Virginia City until five or six years ago, when she removed to Sacramento.

Of Interest to Lodgers.

A decision has been rendered by the Internal Revenue Department which is of considerable importance to fraternal societies. The question was raised as to whether a warrant by a lodge upon its own treasury was answerable to the war laws and should have a revenue stamp upon it or not. Now a decision has been given which says that a warrant drawn in such societies upon the treasury in favor of one of its officers does not have to bear a revenue stamp, but if the warrant be drawn in favor of a third party, whether a member in the lodge or an outsider, it must bear a 2-cent revenue stamp. The decision also announces that all bonds of lodge officials made to their order since July 1, 1898, must bear upon their face revenue stamps of the value of 50 cents. A violation of these rules is in opposition to the Internal Revenue laws of the United States and is a misdemeanor.

Wheelmen's Social.

The Wheelmen will give a social entertainment Friday evening which all members are invited to attend, accompanied by their lady friends. The Club has given a number of these entertainments and they have always proved to be enjoyable features. They serve to stimulate interest amongst the members and create a desire among those who are not members to seek admission, thereby strengthening an already strong organization and enabling it to prosecute the good work being done by enlisting the co-operation of the substantial citizens of Reno. No more beneficial organization for the young men of the city has ever been instituted and it is safe to say interest will never be allowed to wane if the support of the community is all that is required to keep it on the highway to a commendable future.

The Jury Disagrees.

The fourth trial of Charles Ward took place yesterday. The case went to the jury last evening and after being out ten hours they were unable to agree, standing 93 for conviction and were discharged.

When the report of the jury was read Attorney Dupuis moved for a dismissal upon the grounds the case would bankrupt the county if continued and that he did not believe that a jury could be obtained that would convict.

Court overruled the motion and set December 23d as the date for another hearing. It is alleged that at that time Ward will ask for a change of venue.

—Carson News.

Justice Though the Heavens Fall.

It is stated that the documents which were used against Mr. Newlands by Mr. Wren during the campaign, were not furnished him by Mr. Stewart but by Mr. Summerfield who procured them from Washington. As the Journal published the interview containing the charge it publishes this statement, as it has no desire to circulate any accusation which may have been mistakenly made against him for the Lord knows that the "grand old man" has sins enough of his own to answer for, without laying upon his overburdened shoulders the acts of others.

Pleads Precedents.

The Appeal publishes a list of scandals which occurred under Republican State Administrations, in extenuation of the Silver party nominating such a ticket as the one upon which the Appeal editor ran. It was in reply to the Wells Herald's prophecy of four years more of misrule, and an admission that it might be expected and pleaded precedents for the rascality yet to be committed. Heaven save us from such defenders as the Appeal.

Dangerously Ill.

We regret to learn that W. H. Joy, Superintendent of the Alms House, is very low, with cancer or tumor on the stomach, and was reported last night as being in a dying condition.

U. of N. Baseball Prospects.

The brilliant record of the 'Varsity football team during the past season would naturally lead the public to believe that its record will be emulated by the teams in other branches of college athletics, and this is true. The various teams are desirous of making records that will put the devotees of the pigskin "in the shade."

The first in order is the baseball team, and the prospect for the coming season is better than it has ever been in the past. A number of promising players have come in from the north, and with the material already on hand Captain Hayes says that with efficient coaching and vigorous practice a battery can be developed that will withstand an onslaught by any of the best academic teams on the coast. Practice has already begun, and on the University campus any lover of the only American sport may daily hear the reverberating thud of ball on bat.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There are one may see large opalotypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

The Sure La Grippe Cure.

They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store, only 50 cents a bottle.

A Lucky Wheelman.

Miller won the six days bicycle contest at New York. He made 2,004 miles, beating the record (his own) 24 miles. Just before the close of the contest he left his wheel long enough to be married to a Chicago lady in the presence of the audience, for which public attraction he received $500 from the management. His total earnings were $2,450 in cash, $1,500 for winning the race, $500 for the public marriage, $250 for beating the record and $200 from donations. In addition to this the couple received a number of valuable wedding presents from admiring friends.

Merited Punishment.

The intelligent compositor made the JOURNAL scribe say that Dr. T. W. Huntington had been appointed Professor of "classical" surgery, instead of clinical, and in the same issue "bell" sergeant death, instead of fell sergeant. At a meeting of the Chapel the offending i. c. was fined five gallons of beer and sentenced to 24 hours imprisonment in the past house. The proof reader escaped on a brake beam to Carson, where he is now employed as literary critic on the Appeal.

District Court.

J. Wilson, who pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing articles from Stewart Hall, was yesterday sentenced to one year of penal servitude in the State Prison.

The jury in the case of State of Nevada vs. John McMurtrie had not agreed upon a verdict at 9:30 p. m. last night.

Anti-Stewart Feeling.

A commercial traveler, who arrived yesterday from the eastern part of the State, says the feeling in that section is almost unanimously against Stewart. If he has any supporters out there they are very cautious about expressing themselves. He also said he heard many words of praise of the JOURNAL for the course it has taken in the interest of the people and not a single expression of disapprobation of its present position.
